Choices

Sitting, spinning on the surface

On our planetary ball

I realize that nothing's certain

Just a phantom seen by all

Is there only one direction?

Is there only one way out?

With time the only measure

Of a world filled with doubt

The choices we make, the questions we ask

What if it never happened?

The promises made, regrets of the past

What if it never happened?

Tell me what is most precious?

Show me what is most profound?

Different answers to the question

Or the same reply is found

Never knowing what direction

Never seeing the way out

Never taking any Pleasure

Is this is what life's about

Each star is a mirror reflecting the truth

Inside us it shines like a beacon

Each word has a life and a purpose within

A power to strengthen or weaken

“Don’t Look Back”

You ever feel like you’re going...

In completely the wrong direction

Don’t know which way to turn

Was it left or was it right?

Am I ever going to learn?

Not to quit without a fight

Sometimes a journey can take you far away

Then suddenly you’re lost... night turns into day

The road is long

Fading out of view

Can’t make out what lies ahead

Got this sense of déjà vu

Shout with frustration

It’s only direction I seek

In another world where no one understands

The language I speak

Make another wrong turn

I’m at another dead end

Another bloody cul de sac

Another fair weather friend

The Travelling Man (The Story of Eshu)

Part 1 – Travelling Man

Travelling through time- in the hearts of slaves

Nature flickers- through the day and night

Cruelty and kindness, chaos and creation

Many faces, many names, never sure what's black and white

Try to make it to the crossroads

But my eyes begin to fail

Protector of the travelling man

The keeper of the crossroads

Ancient myths and caravans

Open doors to secret codes (x2)

Reaching the threshold, between four sides of life

Not here nor there brings out the inner child

Every cross with every zero helps us to decide

The actions that we undertake, knowledge will provide

Try to make it to the crossroads

But my eyes begin to fail

Protector of the travelling man

The keeper of the crossroads

Ancient myths and caravans

Open doors to secret codes (x2)

Part 2 - Eshu

Convergence of realities, commonalities

Between theory and phenomena, the silent devotees

Bringing out the fool in man he wants to show the way

Intersecting points of view, can lead to disarray

Eshu... who are you?

Eshu... What do you do? (x2)

He fools us time and time again, walk away my friend

Another wrong direction, another throw of dice

Wearing black or wearing red depends on where you stand

A ghostly apparition takes you by the hand

Eshu... who are you?

Eshu... What do you do? (x4)

Part 3 – The Guardian

On the edge of every path our minds can be confused

Our journey only just begun the guide is not excused

Offerings and choices from the Guardian of the door

The point at which we make the choice dictates the inner core

How many decisions give birth to reality?

From the mundane to the magical, there's no guarantee

Are we all on the same path? Are we heading to the light?

Are we going through the right door?

Will we all reunite?

When will we all reunite?

No the truth is what we seek, it's everything we are

How can we find the right direction that we need to go?

There is no way we can turn left if we can't reach the cross

On the road to everywhere

Will we all reunite?

When will we all reunite?

Will we all reunite?

When will we all reunite?

Part 4 – Pulled From All Sides (Instrumental)

Part 5 – Travelling Man (Reprise)

Protector of the travelling man

The keeper of the crossroads

Ancient myths and caravans

Open doors to secret codes (x2)

Part 6 – Questions

What if it never happened? (x4) with UPF choir

How, how long, how long? (x5) with UPF choir

Part 7 – I Hold On To Your Love

And so I look back on my time

And wonder if there's anything I could have changed

I hope you know how hard I tried

To always take the path of light

And even though sometimes I lost

The part of me that should be ever faithful

I tried to look upon the cross

And hold on to what's right

I listen to your voice

Your outstretched arms they guide me

I hold on to your love

I hold on to your love

I have no other choice

Your gentle spirit revives me

I hold on to your love

I hold on to your love

And all the choices still remain

And many questions that are left unanswered

But I can see through all the pain

The right way every time

I listen to your voice

Your outstretched arms they guide me

I hold on to your love

I hold on to your love

I have no other choice

Your gentle spirit revives me

I hold on to your love

I hold on to

I yearn for you

I hold on to

I hold on to your love

Fall in Love with World (guitar and vocals)

We're running out of hours to change the things we do

But time it flies so fast it's a challenge to break through

The earth is showing strain it weaker every day

The crack is getting bigger it's starting to give way

We have a focus in life to keep our world alive

The world needs to fall in love if we are to survive

Fall in love with the world; the world needs to fall in love

There's a burning Desire to connect in every mind

And though we fight for reason some of us are blind

We talked about being part of the whole; it's what makes us who we are

Bringing us together no matter how near or how far

We have a focus in life to keep our world alive

The world needs to fall in love if we are to survive

Fall in love with the world; the world needs to fall in love

Have I made the right decision full on pressure heavy load?

We have to adjust our sights a sense of being pure

A burning light, flashes through the night are you ready for a midnight flight

Drained unable to comprehend I have no vision to what's in sight

Help me find my way through this jigsaw of life

I am waiting for you I am waiting for the time

I am stuck between a line, I need something that will give me a sign

Water

So Dry So Dry....

Floating in time we think were in invincible

We don't see the signs it's inconceivable

All around the world we need to make some changes

Now we have the choices we must engage

So dry so dry not drop to spare

Goodbye, goodbye no water anywhere

Water cool clean Water life giving water

The need to survive is all around us

The thirst grows inside as resources dry up

So dry so dry not drop to spare

Goodbye, goodbye no water anywhere

Water cool clean Water life giving water

Help me to see how the water can run free

Help me to see let the water run free

When the rains came we danced for joy

Then flushed it down drain

All that's left is this barren land

With nowhere to sustain.....our world

How precious is water

How precious is rain?

Water is Survival Water.....

Religion of War

You know better than me everything that happens it's about harmony

Why can't we change the way are, you know we can do it

Religions and wars, what are they for, senseless life lost, counting the cost

Numbers increasing, families depleting it's not what the maker had in mind

Ooooh where are we now how can I make you see (Chorus)

Oblivious we are locked in our world as it passes by

Religion of war what's it all for

Everywhere we look, no one know' s for sure

Religions and wars, what are they for, senseless life lost, counting the cost

Numbers increasing, families decreasing it are not what the maker had in mind

What is the answer, please tell, is it there in front of me!

The world is a place to share; each day brings hope to us all

A book to confuse us all a teaching that helps us stand tall

Stand in My way

*Harness the power within Wait for the show to begin
Switch to another sun, and when ours is done
Then I'll be truly snowed in*

*Am I on the right path?
Free from the aftermath
Conscious of everyone, maybe I could be wrong
Milking the Golden Calf*

*But it's still standing in my way
And I can't tell you why it's here
As everything starts to decay... around me...*

How long, how long, how long will you stand in my way?
How long, how long, how long... 'Til you fall?
How long, how long, how long 'til you melt to the ground?
Melt to the ground...
How long, how long, how long?

*If I ask the question again
Will anyone answer me?
My head's in the clouds but I'm tied up inside
Finding it hard to break free*

*Never knowing which way to go
Having reached the final plateau
Step into the light or run and hide
Ascend or plummet below*

*But you're still standing in my way
And you can't tell me why you're here
As everything starts to decay... around me...*

EggShells

V1: Feeling the burn so long
Hanging it out to dry
An unconscious waking dreaming life
Watching the stars collide
Burying wounds and lies
And tactical silence gets me by

Br: And I heal
Moment to moment it seems real
Turn the wheel
And wake to a new dawn, riding on the storm,
Drop through the clouds to another life.

Ch: Walking on eggshells all my life
Walking on eggshells

V2: Martyring blood and skin
Burning the scars away
Tomorrow's the child of yesterday
How did this wall get here?
So quickly we turned inside
And faced it alone and watched it die

Br: And I cry
Moments that fade before my eyes
Face the light
(and) Follow it downstream, lost in a daydream
Across the heavens and out of sight.

Ch: Walking on eggshells all my life
Walking on eggshells

RIs: See you can fly, it's such a lonely life, blind to the beautiful
Don't say goodbye, don't cry.
Leave in the night, not a trace they'll find and nothing to hold you to,
Find your way, follow the light.

Ch: Walking on eggshells all my life
Walking on eggshells
